Whatever style you choose, conservatories are versatile additions to a home, they transform living spaces and are the ideal way to add the second living room, home office or dining area that you have always promised yourself.

Design-engineered for life-long performance

Every feature and aspect of our conservatories has been designed to provide life-long performance, so you can be assured total peace of mind for many years to come.

A complete solution

Unlike some companies, we exclusively use PVC-U sourced from one supplier to manufacture your complete conservatory roof, windows and doors. This means every component will perfectly colour match throughout the life of your conservatory.

Intelligent design

Careful attention to design detail has resulted in one of the most advanced conservatory systems currently available. This specifically means there is a minimal reliance and requirement for on-site sealants and silicone to achieve water tightness. This overcomes potential for leakage and ensures rainwater always stays on the outside.

Co-ordinate your colours

A selection of colour options for your conservatory is available to complement your home. Choose White for a contemporary finish or Cream, Rosewood and Golden Oak finishes for a traditional appearance. You can also choose to have a wood grained exterior with a clean White interior for the best of both worlds.

Finishing touches

Deciding the style and performance of glazing you require, adding a roof cresting or finial are all ways of personalising your conservatory to meet your needs perfectly. The full range of options are featured on pages 20-23.

The Edwardian

Practical and functional

Classic, clean-lines and maximum space

The Edwardian style allows you to maximise your enjoyment and usage of the extra space created. Its square, flat fronted projection offers a clean-cut elegance and dignified simplicity that blends easily into the character of your home.

Representing a perfect union of form and function, Edwardian conservatories offer the ideal way to extend your home in style.

The Victorian

Striking and distinctive

A classical, period extension to your home

Inspired by Victorian design and architecture, complete with ornate cresting and finials, it's easy to see why the Victorian is one of the most popular styles of conservatory.

Thanks to its impressive versatility, the Victorian will complement most types of property, adding extra light, air and grandeur to your home. Available in 3 and 5 faceted versions, it is readily adapted to fit into whatever space is available – from a large garden to a small patio area.

Gable-ended

Generate light and space
the stately way

Proud and imposing

Reminiscent of the grand orangeries of days gone by, few styles capture the proud architectural heritage of a conservatory quite like the Gable. It's stately presence works well in both old and new properties and, like the Edwardian, maximises the use of space to create an eye catching design from any angle.

The Gable conservatory enjoys imposing front elevations with the windows extending up to the apex of the roof. The additional light this brings will make your conservatory bright and airy and maximise the feeling of space inside.

Lean-to

Stylish and cost-effective

The simple, affordable way to improve your home

The Lean-to conservatory makes the best possible use of your available space, whilst providing a light and airy room for you and your family to enjoy all year round. Contemporary and minimalist, with clean aesthetic lines, the Lean-to creates a luxurious link between your house and garden at an affordable price.

Designed to run across the back of your home, the ends of your Lean-to design can be finished either vertically as gable ends, or be hipped back diagonally from one or both front corners.

P-shaped

More space and flexibility

Combine two styles for more space and greater flexibility

Combination and P-shaped conservatories offer you more space and greater levels of flexibility by combining two styles – such as the Edwardian and the Lean-to – or by adapting an existing style so that it can be used in the shape of a ‘P’.

The P-shape conservatory creates a multifunctional space with two distinctive areas which can be used however you desire. For instance, you might choose to use one area for dining and the other for relaxing, the choice and the flexibility is yours. In addition to the “P” shape, combination conservatories can also be used to create “T” and “B” shapes, giving you the greatest freedom to create the space you’ve dreamt of.

Lantern

Unique and elegant

The ultimate aesthetic appeal

Lantern roofs consist of a roof in two tiers. The different levels are separated by a row of small windows adding a feeling of height and presence to the overall structure. The use of glass rather than polycarbonate also increases light levels and gives you an uninterrupted view of the sky above.

If you are looking to increase the sense of interior space within your conservatory and you want to create a majestic visual appeal - a Lantern roof will give you the perfect finishing touch.

*Lantern style may not be self-supporting, and may need additional support.

Optional features

Glass

We offer a range of glazing options in a variety of finishes and thickness. Glass can maximise light and noise but may also be specified stained, leaded or with bar inserts. Conservatory roof glass may also be chosen to keep itself clean while also keeping you cool in the heat of summer and warm in the chill of winter.
